

FLAME-RESISTANT STATION WEAR 2018

Workrite[®]
FIRE SERVICE

PROTECTING AMERICA'S FIREFIGHTERS

Workrite Uniform Company supports the men and women in fire service by providing high-quality, flame-resistant (FR) station wear that offers the same performance, protection and peace of mind that they bring to their communities across North America.

Workrite FR Fire Service's station wear provides a proven FR thermal barrier, shielding the body more effectively than 100 percent cotton or polycotton garments in the case of compromised turnout gear. When the first layer of clothing becomes the last line of defense, trust Workrite FR Fire Service's NFPA 1975 UL-certified garments to stand up to the heat. Our Classic line is made with DuPont™ Nomex® IIIA-brand fiber, and with our proprietary PerfectPress® process, Workrite FR Fire Service's Nomex IIIA firefighter shirts and pants retain their professional, just-pressed appearance right out of the dryer.

With more than 40 years of FR experience, our manufacturing techniques and product features ensure that comfort, durability and safety are sewn right into each garment. Although the initial price of added protection may be higher than that of non-FR alternatives, Workrite FR Fire Service's station wear lasts through years of strenuous use and requires fewer replacements — proving to be not only a safer choice, but also a cost-effective one.

Workrite FR Fire Service's collection is one of the largest selections of FR-certified station wear on the market. Explore our full line of Workrite FR Fire Service offerings, including the new Station No. 73 Collection designed to provide a modern look and fit, our Wildland Specialty products built for exceptional durability and functionality, and of course, our Classic line.

We put our faith in firefighters — and they can put their faith in Workrite FR Fire Service.
